Dear Ms Maguire,

As a claimant in the Saloman Smith Barney/World Com proceedings I am concerned that there is currently a complete lack of accountability by the NASD arbitration panels for their decisions, leaving no opportunity for review by the investor.

A new rule has been proposed by the NASD Board of Governors giving the claimant the power to request a written explanation from the arbitration panel of their decision prior to commencement of the actual hearings. I strongly support the establishment of such a rule. There should be no arbitrary unexplained decisions when dealing the loses of thousands of dollars to fraudulent CEOs, Stock Brokers and bankers.

Sincerely,  Nicholas Wassil
