

Don Phillips

Don Phillips is a managing director of Morningstar, Inc. and is responsible for corporate strategy, research, and corporate communications. He has served on the company's board of directors since August 1999.

Phillips joined Morningstar in 1986 as the company's first mutual fund analyst and soon became editor of its flagship publication, Morningstar Mutual Funds™, establishing the editorial voice for which the company is best known. Phillips helped to develop the Morningstar® Style Box™, the Morningstar® Rating™, and other distinctive proprietary Morningstar innovations that have become industry standards.

Journalists regularly turn to Phillips for his insight on industry trends. In 2003 and 2004, Investment Advisor magazine named him to its list of the most influential people in the financial planning industry. He received an honorable mention in 2006. Financial Planning magazine named Phillips one of the planning industry's "Movers & Shakers" in 2003. In 2002, Registered Rep. named him one of the investment industry's 10 key players.

Phillips holds a bachelor's degree in English from the University of Texas and a master's degree in American literature from the University of Chicago.
